About Us

Established in 2002, EZserver was founded with the main goal of providing the tools missing in the traditional website hosting marketplace. EZserver.biz has the tools we had always been looking for as customers of website hosting companies.

EZserver.biz has its data centers located at the worlds most connected building, One Wilshire, located in Los Angeles California.

The center of Pacific Rim telecommunications connectivity, the One Wilshire Building is located in the center of a developing "telecommunications district" of Southern California. With virtually all of the surrounding buildings connected to One Wilshire via underground street conduits, the building provides a nexus of international fiber networks converging the Pacific Bell tandom switching with undersea cable networks and transcontinental transmission resources.

Our goal is to get customer traffic to end-users as quickly as possible. We do this through a delicate balance of multiple Tier-1 backbone providers along with public and private peering and a private nationwide backbone network. By interconnecting with consumer networks (DSL providers, cable companies, etc.) and regional telecom carriers (ILECs, international networks, etc.) we provide rapid transit for high-priority traffic. Traditional models have included multihoming to multiple Tier-1 providers. While this provides multiple outbound routes to choose from, we take this concept further by interconnecting directly with end-user ISP networks, eliminating the need for these less-efficient routes.

EZserver uses a cPanel control panel interface. cPanel is a next generation web hosting control panel system. It is extremely rich in features and has an easy to use web based interface (GUI). cPanel allows customers to control everything from adding/removing email accounts or CGI scripts to administering MySQL databases. Take a look at our online tutorials to see what the best control panel on the market can offer you.

We strive to offer the best tools available to our customers at the lowest possible prices. You can feel confident trusting your website to EZserver.biz and using the website services we provide because we use them too. All of our hosting plans come with an unconditional 30 day money back guarantee. This gives you time to make sure we meet your expectations.

To use our website management tools the minimum you will require is an internet connection and an up to date web browser.
